

ukiaHaiku festival and competition listing

second hand book

a place still kept

by the lacewing

--John Parsons, United Kingdom, 2010 Honorable Mention

Ukiah is a northern California town whose name, backwards, spells "haiku." In 2011 the City of Ukiah will hold its ninth annual competition and festival.

The competition encourages local, national, and international submissions to the Jane Reichhold International Prize category.

Website Address:	www.ukiahaiku.org
Fee:	$5 for up to three haiku
Limit:	Maximum 3 haiku per person (only 1 haiku/person/category may win an award)
Eligibility:	Age 19 and over
Start date for submissions:	Saturday, January 1, 2011
Postmark Deadline	Friday, March 18, 2011
Festival Ceremony	Sunday, May 1, 2011 (announcement of winners)

Submission Guidelines

If submitting via the online form:

- 1) On or after January 1, 2011, go to www.ukiahaiku.org, click on "submit your haiku" and then "the online form." Follow instructions on the form.
- 2) If our PayPal payment form is live by then, you can send your payment electronically. Otherwise, send the fee (US check or international money order) by snail mail to ukiaHaiku festival, PO Box 865, Ukiah, CA 95482. Clearly indicate the author's name of the haiku submission for which the payment is intended.

If submitting via snail mail:

- 1) On or after January 1, 2011, go to www.ukiahaiku.org, click on "submit your haiku" and then "the printed form (pdf)"; download the form. Follow instructions on the form. Mail along with your fee.

Deadline: Friday, March 18, 2011 (postmark or email date)

Judging: Jane Reichhold will judge the Jane Reichhold International Prize category.

Awards: $100 first place, $50 second place, $25 third place, plus a small booklet of winning poems and publication in that booklet.

Festival and Awards Ceremony: Sunday, May 1, 2011, 2 p.m. Winners are strongly encouraged to attend the festival to read their poems (winners will be contacted in advance of the festival date). Out-of-towners might consider visiting the many world-class tourist destinations surrounding Ukiah--inland wine country and redwood forests, or the Mendocino Coast (a 1-1/2 hour drive from Ukiah) before or after the festival.